Timmy's Trip to the Zoo

Timmy the Tiger was very excited. Today was the day he was going to the zoo with his friends! As he walked through the gate, he saw a big sign that said, "Welcome to the Zoo!" Timmy felt a little nervous at first because he had never been to the zoo before, but he quickly spotted his friends, Lily the Lion and Sammy the Snake, waving to him. They were all wearing bright, matching hats for their special day out. Together, they went on an adventure to see all the animals.

First, they visited the birds. Timmy saw colorful parrots, squawking loudly as they flew from tree to tree. Next, they visited the pigs, who were happily rolling in the mud. Timmy giggled at their silly antics.

Then, they went to see the fish swimming in a sparkling pond. Timmy watched as they darted and swirled around, their scales shimmering in the sunlight. Finally, they visited the iguanas, who lazily basked in the warm sunshine. Timmy loved every moment of his trip to the zoo!
