Colors Everywhere

Once upon a time, in a colorful forest, there lived a group of playful animals. The forest was peaceful and the animals were always joyful. Among them was a cheerful rabbit named Benny, who loved to explore the wonderful world around him.

One bright and sunny morning, Benny found a basket full of delightful fruits near a big, beautiful tree. Feeling grateful, he decided to share the fruits with his friends. He hopped over to his kind-hearted friend, Sally the squirrel, who was always helpful. Sally was excited and said, "Thank you, Benny! These fruits look so tasteful!"

Next, Benny visited Freddie the fox, who was known for being very skillful at finding hidden treasures. Freddie was thankful and suggested, "Let's have a picnic in the meadow. It will be a wonderful feast!"

The friends gathered under a big, shady tree in the meadow. The sky was blissful, and the birds sang tuneful melodies. Everyone enjoyed the plentiful food and shared many joyful stories. Benny felt very hopeful that they would have many more days like this in their peaceful and colorful forest.
