

Name _____

Flighty Kites

On a bright day, kids love to fly kites. The sky is high, and the wind is just right. With a light tug, the kite takes flight.

Its tail wiggles with delight as it soars. They hold the string tight and run with all their might. The kites reach new heights and put on quite a sight.

At night, they dream of their kites in flight, feeling the weightlessness as they glide.