

Quotation Marks

You use quotation marks to indicate that you are quoting exactly what someone said. Write a sentence that includes each quotation and the name of the person who said it. Punctuate correctly.

Be yourself. Everyone else is already taken.

Oscar Wilde

Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life.

Steve Jobs
