

Subordinating Conjunctions

Subordinating conjunctions like after, before, when, since, until, and as soon as function as adverb clauses. They indicate when something in a sentence happened or will happen.

EXAMPLE: We should talk before you go out.

DIRECTIONS: Use each subordinating conjunction in a sentence.

after

whenever

when

since

until

as soon as

