

Name _____ Irony

Create Situational Irony

You can create situational irony in your story by setting up a sequence of events that follow this pattern. Brainstorm how each of the three steps might be used in your story.

Your character misunderstands or misinterprets a situation.

Your character then acts on that misunderstanding.

Your character experiences unexpected things as a result of that misunderstanding.