

Name _____

Princess Primrose's Picnic

In the magical kingdom of Pritania, there lived a young princess named Primrose. Princess Primrose was known for her love of picnics. She enjoyed planning perfect picnics for her friends and family. One day, she decided to organize the grandest picnic the kingdom had ever seen.

Primrose wanted everything to be just right. She prepared a long list of things she needed: pretty picnic blankets, plenty of food, and fun games. She asked her friends to help her with the preparations. Prince Patrick, her cousin, promised to bring fresh fruits from the royal orchard. Her friend, Prudence, was in charge of bringing the prettiest flowers to decorate the picnic spot. Another friend, Pringle the puppy, would provide endless entertainment with his playful antics.

The picnic was set to take place in the beautiful prairie near the palace. On the morning of the picnic, the weather was perfect. The sun was shining brightly, and a gentle breeze was blowing. Princess Primrose and her friends spread out the picnic blankets and arranged the food. There were sandwiches, pastries, and a big pitcher of pink lemonade. Patrick arrived with baskets of plump strawberries, juicy grapes, and crisp apples. Prudence decorated the area with vibrant flowers, making the picnic spot look like a fairy tale.

As everyone gathered, they played games like sack races and tug-of-war. Pringle the puppy pranced around, making everyone laugh with his playful tricks. Princess Primrose felt proud of how everything had turned out. The picnic was a huge success, and everyone praised her for her excellent planning.

After the games, they all sat down to enjoy the delicious food. Princess Primrose proposed a toast with pink lemonade, thanking everyone for their help and friendship. The picnic ended with everyone feeling happy and satisfied, making it a day to remember.