

Name _____

The Adventures of Detective Dino

In a quiet, little town called Dinoville, there lived a dinosaur named Detective Dino. He was famous for solving mysteries that others found difficult. One day, Detective Dino received a distress call from the mayor. Someone had disabled the town's electricity, and everyone was in the dark!

Detective Dino didn't waste any time and began his investigation. He discovered footprints leading to the park and decided to follow them. Along the way, he encountered a disorganized trail of candy wrappers and broken branches. "This must be a clue!" he thought.

As Detective Dino approached the park, he saw a group of dinosaurs arguing. He decided to listen carefully to their conversation. They were discussing a disagreement about who was responsible for the electricity problem. Detective Dino noticed one dinosaur trying to disappear into the bushes.

Detective Dino quickly disguised himself as a park ranger and approached the suspicious dinosaur. The dinosaur was startled and tried to run, but Detective Dino was quick. He disarmed the dinosaur, revealing a device that was used to disrupt the town's electricity.

With the device in hand, Detective Dino restored the town's electricity and returned it to the mayor. The town was grateful, and the mischievous dinosaur was sent to detention for his disruptive behavior. Detective Dino reminded everyone to stay alert and never disregard the importance of clues.

