

Name _____

The Nonstop Adventures of Nonny the Gnome

In the magical land of Gnomeland, there lived a gnome named Nonny who was known for his nonstop energy and curiosity. Nonny loved to explore the nooks and crannies of his nontraditional village. One day, Nonny discovered a nonnative plant growing near the edge of the forest. This plant had bright, glowing flowers that none of the gnomes had ever seen before.

Nonny decided to investigate the plant further. He realized that the plant's glow was caused by a nontoxic substance that made it safe to touch. Excited by his discovery, Nonny wanted to share it with his friends. However, he encountered a noncooperative squirrel that kept stealing the plant's flowers.

Undeterred, Nonny devised a plan to distract the squirrel with some nonperishable nuts he had stored in his backpack. The plan worked, and Nonny managed to collect enough flowers to bring back to his village. The gnomes were amazed by the nonchalant way Nonny handled the situation.

The village elder, impressed by Nonny's discovery, decided to plant more of the nonnative flowers around the village. The glowing flowers made Gnomeland look even more magical at night. Nonny's nonstop curiosity had once again led to a wonderful discovery that benefited everyone.