Beach Adventure

On a warm summer day, the high school students planned a trip to the beach. The leader of the group, Walter, made sure everyone knew the schedule. They met at the school early in the morning, ready for a fun day ahead. Gwen brought her woven beach blanket, while Wyatt packed a lunch for everyone.

When they arrived, the beach was quiet, and the waves gently lapped the shore. The students quickly set up their spot near a large dune. Walter reminded everyone to apply sunscreen and drink plenty of water.

Wyatt noticed a wrecked old boat partially buried in the sand. He called Walter and Gwen over to check it out. They wondered how long it had been there and what stories it could tell. The boat's wood was worn, and seaweed clung to its side.

Gwen decided to collect seashells along the shore. She found a particularly beautiful whelk shell and showed it to Wyatt. They walked along the beach, feeling the soft sand beneath their feet. Walter stayed back, keeping an eye on everyone's belongings.

As the sun began to set, they gathered around to watch. The sky turned shades of pink and orange, and the air grew cooler. Walter wrapped up the day by taking a group photo. They all agreed it was a perfect trip to the beach.
