The 100th-Day Aging Accident

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Max and Sophie's attempt to create a memorable 100th day celebration using a potion had unintended and humorous consequences. They may have learned the importance of caution when trying out new and unusual ideas and that sometimes, simple and safe activities can be just as enjoyable.
2. Humor and lightheartedness played a significant role in the story, turning an ordinary 100th day celebration into a comical and unforgettable event. The unexpected aging of the students added a humorous twist that made the day memorable in a unique way.
3. There are many alternative and safe ways to create an unforgettable 100th day celebration for a school. Ideas could include organizing a talent show, hosting a themed costume day, or setting up a fun obstacle course. These activities can bring joy and excitement without the need for risky experiments.
4. Teamwork and seeking help from knowledgeable sources, as demonstrated by Max and Sophie, are essential skills when facing challenges. Working together and seeking advice from experts or experienced individuals can lead to effective problem-solving and better outcomes.
