

Name _____ Commas

Commas with Adjectives

Comma separate two or more adjectives that modify the same noun. If you can substitute the word "and" for the comma and the sentence still makes sense, you need to use the comma.

DIRECTIONS: Rewrite each sentence correctly.

1. Fiona picked a beautiful sweet-smelling flower.

2. I am proud of my lush burgeoning garden.

3. It's been a cozy rainy day.

4. I have a hand-me-down purple and white dress.

5. Have you read this captivating entertaining book?

6. The small energetic dog was a lot of fun.
