

Name _____ Clauses

Clauses as Modifiers

A clause is a group of words that contains a subject and a predicate. An adjective clause modifies a noun. It usually begins with who, which or that. An adverbial clause modifies a verb. Find the dependent clause in each sentence. On the line, write whether it is acting as an adjective or an adverb.

- _____ 1. Beth counts sheep whenever she can't sleep.
- _____ 2. The car that brought me here is not mine.
- _____ 3. I walked to school after breakfast.
- _____ 4. Kim played the flute during the concert.
- _____ 5. Just as you walked in, Robert began singing.
- _____ 6. The TV, which hasn't worked in years, is old.
- _____ 7. The movie that I recommended is in theatres.
- _____ 8. This day, which I have been waiting for, is special.
- _____ 9. Now that you're here, let's play.
- _____ 10. Daniel ran when he heard the siren.
- _____ 11. We waited until the doctor arrived.

