

ANSWERS

Clichés are expressions that are so common and overused that they fail to impart any real impact on your sentence.

Idioms are expressions that do not have a literal meaning; rather, they establish their connotation by how they are used in speech.

Euphemisms are milder words or phrases used to blunt the effect of more direct or unpleasant words or phrases.