Prepositional Phrases

A preposition tells how ideas in a sentence are related. They can tell where (i.e., over, up) or when (i.e., during, following) something happens. They can also tell you the location of a person or an object in time or space. Prepositions usually come at the beginning of a phrase that has several parts:

EXAMPLE: The dog is wearing a collar around his neck.

The prepositional phrase in the sentence above consists of:

the preposition	an article	a noun (object of the preposition)
around	his	neck
