Lost Snowman Adventure

In a snowy forest, there was a jolly snowman named Walter. One day, a strong wind blew Walter away from his cozy spot. He found himself lost in the woods.

Walter wandered through the snow-covered trees, leaving a trail of footprints behind. Along the way, he met a wren who offered to help. They walked together until they reached a warm cabin.

Inside, the friendly family welcomed Walter and gave him a carrot for his nose. With the help of his new friends, Walter found his way back home, feeling grateful and happy.
