Robot Gang

In a futuristic city, a gang of robots clang and bang as they fix machines. Each robot has a unique slang that they use to communicate. They sang songs while they worked, bringing a cheerful tang to their tasks.

One robot named Fang had a special tool that could change shapes. They worked in a big hangar filled with different gadgets. Every day, they hang their tools neatly after finishing their work.

Sometimes, they challenge each other to games, where the winner gets to wear the shiny boomerang badge.

After a long day, they relax and watch the stars twang in the night sky.
