

Name _____

Fate's Choice

Short Answer Key

1. Caesar ignored the warning because he did not believe in fate and thought he was too strong to be harmed.
2. Brutus wanted to make his own choices, but he wondered if everything was already meant to happen.
3. Brutus and Cassius went to war and lost. They both took their own lives.
4. Calpurnia's dream seemed to predict Caesar's death, showing how fate might have been at work.
5. Answers will vary, but students should explain whether they think the characters had control over their choices or if everything was already decided.
