

ANSWERS

1. Ian packed his most precious possessions into a small sack, tied the sack to a stick, and set out down the road. He walked for hours and didn't see anyone.
2. Though we have several conflicting appointments, I am sure we will be able to fit you in somewhere. Let me check.
3. There is a lot to keep track of, but if you just deal with one thing at a time and take notes, everything will be fine. You'll see.
4. There are always little noises around the house, like the dryer squeaking, and the dog will bark if he hears something outside. You can also hear people moving around upstairs.