

Name _____

The Mystery of the Missing Menorahs

In a cozy neighborhood called Maplewood, where the houses were adorned with twinkling lights and festive decorations, there lived a young sleuth named Mia. Mia had always been fascinated by mysteries, and she had a reputation for solving even the trickiest puzzles. Little did she know that her biggest mystery was about to unfold during the Hanukkah season.

One chilly December evening, as the sun set and the menorahs were about to be lit, Mia's neighbor, Mrs. Rosenbaum, came rushing to her door with tears in her eyes. She explained that someone had stolen her precious family heirloom, a beautiful Hanukkah menorah passed down through generations.

Determined to help, Mia took the case and began investigating. She started by talking to neighbors, asking if they had seen anything unusual. Mia's friend, Max, mentioned that he had seen a suspicious figure lurking around the neighborhood at night. Mia and Max decided to keep watch that night from Mia's bedroom window.

As they peered through the darkness, they spotted a shadowy figure sneaking around Mrs. Rosenbaum's yard. Mia knew they had to act fast. She grabbed her flashlight, and they quietly made their way outside. They followed the mysterious figure to a nearby shed, where they found not only Mrs. Rosenbaum's menorah but several others as well.

Mia and Max called the police, who arrived and apprehended the thief. It turned out the thief was someone from a neighboring town who had been stealing menorahs to sell. Thanks to Mia's quick thinking and detective skills, all the stolen menorahs were returned to their rightful owners.

The neighborhood held a special Hanukkah celebration to honor Mia's bravery and resourcefulness. Mia received a heartfelt thank-you card from Mrs. Rosenbaum, and her reputation as the neighborhood sleuth grew even stronger.

