Jungle Swing Party

In the jungle, a group of animals decided to have a swing party.

The loud bang of the drums signaled the start. Monkeys began to clang the cymbals together. A parrot sprang into the air, singing happily.

The entire jungle rang with joyful sounds. Elephants used their trunks to hang decorations from the trees. Tigers danced with a swing in their step, showing off their bright fangs. Even the sloth joined in, moving at its own slow pace. The party lasted until the sun began to hang low in the sky, casting a warm glow over everything.
