

Name _____

The Misadventures of Missy the Misfit Monkey

Missy was a mischievous monkey who loved to explore the jungle. One day, she heard a mysterious sound coming from the riverbank. Not wanting to miss an exciting discovery, Missy swung from tree to tree to investigate.

When she arrived, she found a misplaced canoe half-buried in the sand. Missy decided to hop in, but she miscalculated her jump and fell into the water. She climbed back into the canoe, dripping wet but still curious.

As she paddled down the river, Missy saw a misleading sign that pointed to a "shortcut." Trusting her instincts, she followed the sign, but it led her to a dense thicket of thorns. "What a mistake!" she thought as she carefully backed out.

Further down the river, Missy encountered a mischievous parrot who liked to mimic sounds. The parrot's imitations made it hard for Missy to distinguish real noises from fake ones, causing her to misinterpret the situation. She thought she heard another monkey calling for help, but it was just the parrot's trick.

Eventually, Missy stumbled upon a misty waterfall. Behind the waterfall, she discovered a hidden cave filled with mismatched treasures like old coins, shiny rocks, and a single, colorful feather. Despite all the mishaps, Missy was thrilled with her findings.

Missy returned to her jungle home, eager to share her story with her friends. She learned that even misadventures could lead to unforgettable memories and unexpected treasures.

