The Happy Calf

On a sunny farm nestled between rolling hills, there lived a cheerful calf named Max. Max had soft brown fur and big, curious eyes.

Every morning, he would hop out of the barn and trot around the green fields, sniffing the flowers and chasing butterflies. Max's favorite spot was under the shady oak tree where he would munch on juicy apples and nap in the cool breeze.

One day, while exploring the farm, Max discovered a secret garden hidden behind a tall hedge. In the garden, he found a sparkling stream and a family of ducks splashing joyfully.

Max wiggled his ears in excitement and joined the ducks for a playful swim, splashing and laughing until the sun began to set.
