The Great Toy Adventure

One day, Tom and Sue went to the park. They had a big red bag with them. Inside the bag were their favorite toys. Tom had a small blue car. Sue had a little yellow duck. They put the toys on the grass. Tom said, "Let us race the car and the duck." Sue smiled and said, "Yes, let us see who will win." They counted, "One, two, three, go!" The car went fast, but the duck was slow. Tom's car won the race.

Next, Sue said, "Let us build a tower with blocks." They took out the blocks from the bag. They built the tower high, high up. But then, a bird came by and knocked it down. Tom and Sue laughed and laughed.

After that, they were tired. They sat on the grass and ate a snack. They had apples and milk. "This is a fun day," said Tom. Sue nodded and said, "Yes, let us come back tomorrow."
