The Fun Day at the Farm

One bright and sunny day, Kay and Ray went to visit Farmer Jay's farm. The farm was a happy place where animals loved to play. Kay and Ray were excited to spend the day with the animals.

First, they saw the horses. The horses loved to run and sway their tails.

Next, they visited the hay barn. Kay and Ray jumped and played in the soft hay. It was like a big, bouncy bed!

After that, they went to see the chickens. The chickens clucked and laid eggs. Kay and Ray helped Farmer Jay collect the eggs and put them in a tray.

Then, it was time for a picnic. Kay and Ray sat on a blanket and ate sandwiches, apples, and cookies. They drank lemonade and talked about their fun day.

As the sun began to set, Kay and Ray said goodbye to Farmer Jay and the animals. They were tired but very happy. It was a perfect day at the farm!
