

Live Toys

Imagine you wake up one morning to find that all your toys have come to life! Write about the fun adventures you have with them and what surprises they have in store for you.

A large, empty rounded rectangular box with a thick blue border, intended for the student to write their story.