

That Cat

Read the story. Then number the pictures in order from 1 to 4.

Smokey was a quiet cat who lived with a quiet family on a quiet street. He was fed twice a day by a quiet woman, and he took a nap every afternoon in the lap of a quiet girl. His life was orderly and perfect, until one day when everything changed. A boy came to live with the quiet family. The boy was loud. The first morning he was there, he came thumping down the stairs so loudly that all of Smokey's hair stood on end from fear. The boy slammed doors. He left windows open. One day a bird flew in the open window and landed on Smokey's head. The boy demanded a pet of his own, so the quiet woman got the boy a goldfish. Smokey was curious about this strange shimmering creature that went round and round in circles. So he tried to get a closer look, but he got a terrible surprise. Being wet was even worse than being loud!

