

Picture Day

It was school picture day, and Liza wanted to get a really good picture of herself. Before school, she washed and curled her hair. Then she put in her very best outfit. On the school bus, she rode half-standing so she didn't wrinkle her clothes. She skipped lunch, so she didn't accidentally spill food on herself while she ate. Finally, at the end of the school day, it was Liza's turn to go get her picture taken. When the photographer called her name, she hurried in front of the camera and flashed the cameraman her very best smile. Just then, the fire alarm went off, and so did the sprinklers!

Put the story events in order.
