

ANSWERS

A biography is the true story of a person's life.

Biographies are factual, written in third person point of view, in the past tense, and use formal language. Events are arranged in chronological order and include dates.

Biographies help you understand what life was like for someone else, how they accomplished what they did, what obstacles they faced, and how they overcame them.

Biographies also place a person within an historical context.