

ANSWERS

BOTH: They are both cats. They both live out of doors and don't have a particular home.

Patches: Patches is a girl. She is friendly and affectionate, and people provide for her.

Morry: Morry is a boy. He doesn't have a home. He doesn't trust people, and he has to fend for himself by looking for food around the dumpsters.