

Name _____

Rockin' Groundhogs: A Tale of Fame and Friendship

Short Answer Key

1. Lila played the bass guitar, and she helped the band by writing a powerful song that brought them back together when they faced challenges.
2. Fame threatened to tear the band apart as individual members started prioritizing their own interests. They realized the importance of their friendship through a heartfelt conversation and Lila's song, which reminded them of their bond.
3. The Meadow Rockers continued to make music because they realized that their friendship and love for music were more important than fame and fortune.
4. The Meadow Rockers learned the value of friendship and the importance of staying united even in the face of fame and challenges.

