

Name _____

The Magical Coach's Adventure

In a quaint little village, there lived a magical coach named Chuck. Chuck wasn't just any coach; he had the ability to take kids on amazing adventures with a simple touch. Every weekend, the children in the village would gather around Chuck, eager for a new adventure.

One bright Saturday morning, Chuck announced, "Today, we are going to the Land of Crunch, where everything is made of snacks!" The children cheered and quickly climbed aboard. With a flicker of his headlights and a friendly honk, Chuck began to move.

As they reached the Land of Crunch, the kids were amazed. There were chocolate chip hills, sandwich trees, and a river of fruit punch. They ran around, munching on crispy chips and crunchy carrots, having the time of their lives.

While exploring, they stumbled upon a patch of ground that seemed different. It was the entrance to a hidden cave! With a torch in hand, Chuck led the way into the cave. Inside, they found treasure chests filled with golden cheese, crunchy pretzels, and other delightful treats.

Suddenly, they heard a screech. It was a friendly creature named Twitch, who guarded the treasure. "You may take as many treats as you like," Twitch said, "but you must promise to share them with others."

The kids filled their bags with treats and happily agreed to share. They thanked Twitch and made their way back to the village. As they rode home, they sang songs and chatted about their amazing adventure.

When they arrived back at the village, the children shared their treasures with their friends and families. Everyone enjoyed the delicious snacks, and they all thanked Chuck for the incredible journey.