Polly's Popping Popcorn Party

Polly the panda was having a popping popcorn party! She wore her polka-dotted pajamas and a pink party hat as she danced around the kitchen.

Polly loved popcorn, especially when it popped with a “pop-pop-pop” sound in the microwave. She poured the kernels into the popcorn maker and waited eagerly for the magic to happen. Soon, the kitchen filled with the delicious aroma of freshly popped popcorn, and Polly’s tummy rumbled with excitement.

With a ding, the popcorn was ready! Polly opened the microwave and peeked inside to find a fluffy sea of popcorn waiting for her. She scooped it into a big bowl and sprinkled it with a pinch of salt. Then, she invited her friends over for a popcorn party.

They gathered around the bowl, giggling and munching on the crunchy snack. With each bite, they exclaimed, “Yum!” as they enjoyed the popping popcorn party together.
