

Name _____

Breaking Labels

Short Answer Key

1. Greasers are seen as criminals and troublemakers, while Socs are seen as wealthy and respected.
2. Cherry tells Ponyboy that Socs have problems too, which makes him realize they are not as different as he thought.
3. The church fire proves that Ponyboy and Johnny are brave and good-hearted, even though society sees them as criminals.
4. Randy tells Ponyboy he doesn't want to fight anymore, showing that not all Socs enjoy violence.
5. Ponyboy decides to write his story to show that people are more than their labels.

