Jungle Safari

In the thick jungle, animals clang through the trees as they move around. Birds sang high up in the branches, creating a melody.

A group of explorers began their day with a loud bang of a gong. They hung their backpacks on a tree branch to start their journey lightly. One explorer found a flower with a sweet tang in its scent. A snake named Fang slithered past, eyeing the group curiously. They spotted a monkey with a bright orange boomerang tail swinging from vine to vine.

The explorers felt a pang of excitement every time they discovered a new animal. As the sun set, they gathered to thank the jungle for an unforgettable adventure.
