

Name _____

The Great Green Dragon's Garden

In the magical land of Greenwood, there lived a gentle giant named Gregor. Gregor was a green dragon who loved to grow all kinds of plants in his garden. His garden was the most beautiful in all of Greenwood, filled with vibrant flowers, juicy fruits, and fresh vegetables.

Every morning, Gregor would greet the sun with a great big smile and start his day by watering his plants. He would greet each plant as if it were his friend. "Good morning, grapes! Hello, green beans! How are you, geraniums?" he would say.

One day, as Gregor was tending to his garden, he heard a tiny voice crying. He looked around and found a group of grubs gathered around a wilted plant. The grubs were sad because their home, the great geranium, was dying.

Gregor gently picked up the grubs and said, "Don't worry, little friends. I will help your home grow strong again." He grabbed his watering can, sprinkled some magic grow dust, and sang a special garden song. The great geranium began to perk up, and soon it was standing tall and green once more.

The grubs were grateful and thanked Gregor for his kindness. They decided to help him in the garden. Together, they planted new seeds, pulled out weeds, and made sure every plant was happy.

News of Gregor's great garden spread across Greenwood. Animals from all over came to see the beautiful garden and enjoy its fresh produce. Gregor shared his fruits and vegetables with everyone, making sure no one went hungry.

One evening, as the sun set, Gregor gathered all his friends in the garden for a grand feast. They ate fresh grapes, green beans, and delicious fruit pies. The garden glowed with happiness and laughter.

From that day on, Gregor's garden was known as the Great Green Dragon's Garden, a place where everyone in Greenwood could gather, share, and grow together.