Fields of Resilience

Short Answer Key

1. Mama Rose's pie-selling business helped the family financially by providing an additional source of income.
2. The Johnsons were sharecroppers because they worked on Mr. Jenkins' land in exchange for a share of the crops they grew. This arrangement posed challenges because they had limited control over their lives and were often treated unfairly.
3. Aunt Lizzie's stories about their ancestors served as a source of inspiration and a reminder of the family's strength and resilience in the face of adversity.
4. Answers may vary, but some possible qualities could include determination, resourcefulness, love for their family, and a strong work ethic.
