

Name _____

The Lost Civilization of Pop Culture

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Possible answers: The civilization might have been fascinated with pop culture because it provided a form of entertainment, inspiration, and a sense of identity. It could have also been a way to pass down stories and values to future generations.
2. Possible answers: The civilization's obsession with pop culture likely influenced their fashion, art, festivals, and social interactions. It could have shaped their values and beliefs, as well as provided a sense of community and shared identity.
3. Possible answers: Students may suggest that the story teaches us the enduring power of storytelling, imagination, and creativity. It also highlights how culture and entertainment can shape a society's identity and values.
4. Possible answers: Students may mention modern artifacts like smartphones, fashion trends, music, and social media as items that future generations might find and study to understand our culture and society.

