

Name _____

The Dinosaur Detective

In the bustling town of Dino City, there was a dinosaur detective named Dizzy who was known for solving mysterious disappearances. One day, Dizzy received a distress call from the museum. A valuable dinosaur bone had disappeared!

Dizzy immediately went to the museum to investigate. He discovered that the security cameras had been disabled, leaving no video evidence of the crime. Undeterred, Dizzy began to search for clues. He found a discolored footprint near the exhibit, which led him to believe the thief had come in disguise.

Dizzy followed the trail to the park, where he discovered a group of dinosaurs discussing a disagreement they had earlier. One dinosaur mentioned seeing a suspicious figure disassemble a bike near the bushes. Dizzy's sharp eyes spotted the disassembled bike parts hidden nearby.

Determined to catch the thief, Dizzy set a trap. He disguised himself as a park visitor and waited. Soon, a dinosaur approached, trying to disappear behind a tree. Dizzy quickly disarmed the thief, who turned out to be a notorious robber known for disrupting the peace in Dino City.

With the bone recovered, Dizzy returned it to the museum, where he was hailed as a hero. The town celebrated, and Dizzy reminded everyone that even the smallest clue should never be disregarded in solving a mystery.

