

Name _____

Emma's Kite

Emma's kite was her favorite toy. One windy afternoon, she took it to the park.

"Up you go!" she cheered as the kite soared into the sky. Suddenly, a strong gust of wind tugged at the string. "Oh no!" Emma cried as the kite flew higher and higher. Then she saw it—a big, fluffy cloud had caught her kite! "Don't worry," said a friendly bird. "I'll get it for you!" The bird flapped up to the cloud and gently nudged the kite free. "Thank you!" Emma smiled, waving to her new feathered friend as her kite danced in the wind again.
