

ANSWERS

1. Whales are mammals, but the majority of mammals are not aquatic, so it is not really accurate to say that it is common and not at all unusual for mammals to live under water.
2. Technically it is true that he has a “history” of voting for middle class tax breaks, but saying it that way suggests it is something he has done repeatedly or consistently, when in fact he has not.