The Easter Egg Factory Adventure

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. (Possible answer) If I could design my own Easter egg, I would choose bright colors like pink, turquoise, and gold. I would paint it with a pattern of stars and hearts because they represent happiness and love to me. These colors and patterns would make the egg special and joyful.
2. (Possible answer) The atmosphere in the Easter Egg Factory during the weeks leading up to Easter was filled with excitement, laughter, and joy. The workers and machines worked tirelessly to create colorful and enchanting Easter eggs, and everyone was enthusiastic about their role in bringing Easter dreams to life. The factory was a place of creativity, whimsy, and celebration.
3. (Possible answer) The surprises hidden inside the eggs added to the Easter magic by creating an element of surprise and wonder for the children who received them. Finding tiny toys, candies, and miniature puzzles inside the eggs made the Easter egg hunt and festivities even more exciting and memorable for the children, enhancing their Easter experience.
