Cassius' Plan

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Some may say Cassius cared about Rome, but others may argue that he was mostly motivated by jealousy and ambition.
2. Cassius used persuasive words, fake letters, and reminders of Brutus' family history to make him believe that stopping Caesar was necessary.
3. Answers will vary, but students should consider Brutus' love for Rome and whether he should have been more cautious.
4. The story teaches that people can be manipulated by false information, and that trust should not be given too easily.
