The Lost Backpack

Jack had a backpack. It was green and had a black strap. Jack took his backpack to camp. He packed snacks, socks, and a book.

One day at camp, Jack lost his backpack. He felt sad and went to look for it. Jack checked the tent, but it was not there. He looked under the rock, but it was not there. Then, he asked his pal, Rick. Rick said, "I think I saw it by the pond."

Jack ran to the pond. He saw his backpack next to a duck. The duck quacked and waddled away. Jack was glad to find his backpack. He picked it up and checked inside. His snacks, socks, and book were still there.

Jack went back to camp. He told Rick, "I found my backpack by the pond!" Rick smiled and said, "I'm glad you found it!" They sat by the fire and had a snack. It was a fun day at camp.
