

Name _____

Joey and the Giant Bubble

Joey loved blowing bubbles, but today he was determined to make the biggest bubble ever. Armed with a bucket of soapy water and his giant bubble wand, he headed to the park. He dipped the wand into the suds, pulled it out, and gave a big swoop.

Whoosh! A giant bubble began to form. It shimmered in the sunlight, glowing with rainbow colors. "It's working!" Joey cheered as the bubble grew bigger and bigger. Suddenly, a gust of wind caught the bubble. It floated higher and higher into the sky!

"Wow!" gasped Joey and the kids in the park. They watched as the enormous bubble floated over the trees and finally popped with a soft "poof." Joey grinned. "Tomorrow, I'll make one even bigger!" he said, already planning his next bubble adventure.

Questions

1. What did Joey want to do at the park?
2. What made the bubble float higher into the sky?
3. What colors did Joey see on the giant bubble?
4. What did Joey say at the end of the story?

