

Name _____

Twisted Thoughts

Open-Ended Response Questions

1. How does Poe make the narrator seem both confident and unreliable at the same time?
2. What role does guilt play in the narrator's breakdown?
3. Why do you think Poe chose to tell the story from the narrator's point of view? How would the story change if told by someone else?
4. Do you think the narrator's madness made him more or less dangerous? Why?

