

ANSWERS

Antagonist

Antagonist may not be a human or living being at all; could be some natural force typically the “bad guy” in the story who opposes the protagonist and thwarts them as they try to achieve their goals.

Protagonist

Protagonist is the main character typically the one the reader roots for

Both Antagonist and Protagonist

both are essential characters in a story both have their own goals.