Easter Adventures in the Friendly Ghost House

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. (Possible answer) If I were a member of the Johnson family, I would have liked the Easter egg hunt led by Benny the most. It would be a unique and magical experience to hunt for floating eggs with surprises inside. It would make Easter unforgettable and exciting.
2. (Possible answer) Benny's playful spirit and presence brought a sense of joy and wonder to the Johnson family's Easter celebration. It transformed the mansion into a welcoming and fun place, making the day memorable and full of laughter.
3. (Possible answer) The Johnson family might have learned that sometimes, even in unexpected and spooky places, you can find joy and magic. They might have learned to embrace unique experiences and not be afraid to explore new places, even if they seem eerie at first.
