

Name _____

Dino Rescue: Helping a Lost Friend

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. The kids decided to help the baby Velociraptor because they felt empathy for the scared and lost dinosaur. They wanted to ensure its safety and reunite it with its family.
2. The kids displayed qualities such as courage, kindness, patience, and teamwork during their adventure. These qualities are important because they helped the kids overcome challenges and build a connection with the baby Velociraptor. They also demonstrate the importance of empathy and cooperation when helping others in need.
3. The encounter with dinosaurs in the story likely expanded the kids' horizons and filled them with wonder. It showed them that the world could be even more magical and diverse than they had imagined, reinforcing the importance of curiosity and exploration.

