Creator and Creation

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Victor isolates himself with his work, while the creature desperately tries to connect with others but is rejected.
2. If I were Victor, I would have taught the creature and helped him understand the world.
3. The creature was misunderstood—he wanted to be loved but became angry after being rejected so many times.
4. The story teaches us that we should be responsible for what we create and treat others with kindness.
